The International Rowing Match

MONTREAL, Sept 30 —As the day approaches for the Hanlon Courtney match, interest everywhere is intensified beyond all precedent A constant succession of telegrams is received from all parts of the United States and Canada as well as from England for information Probably the individuals least moved or excited over the event are the men themselves Hanlon, as well as his club confreres, hold an exalted opinion of Courtney as an oarsman Hanlon said he felt a great responsibility devolving upon him in meeting such a man in an international contest It would probably be the hardest he had ever undertaken when the latter's wonderful record was considered Hanlon went out for a spin this forenoon remaining out nearly an hour, during which time he and Courtney came together on the lee of the Isle ... where they had quite a brush to all appearances Courtney got the better of the ... but it is understood that neither men ... WASHINGTON NEWS

The Chinese minister and his assistant, Young Wing have performed the usual diplomatic courtesy of calling upon the several foreign ministers, leaving their cards, one in Chinese characters and the other in English Sir Edward Thornton was the first diplomat who returned the visit The Chinese minister received him in his parlor and the two, seated in chairs separated by a slender staff all brought from China drank tea together Young will leave for Hartford today to bring his family to Washington

The secretary of the treasury recently submitted to the attorney general the question whether under the provisions of section 3 568 of the revised statutes of the United States, public officers are compelled to receive subsidiary silver coins of the United States to the amount of $5 in exchange for the payment of public dues when the amount to be paid is more than $5, and whether any other person than a public officer can legally be required to receive in payment $5 in silver coin as part of a larger amount In conclusion he says I am of the opinion that the section of the revised statutes referred to in your letter is to be construed as remitting payment of $5 in subsidiary silver coin only when the debt for which it is thus made a legal tender does not exceed the sum of $5.

Vote early and right.

Look out for spurious tickets.

Look out for the "still hunt."

L. C. Dana and J. E. Clark have been good officers and should be elected.

We want at least 200 majority on the state ticket at Colorado Springs to-day

When you vote for state senator remember that the next legislature elects a United States senator.

The work of to-day will decide the bitter contest that has been waged for the last two months Let there be no laggards

G H. Stewart is the republican candidate for justice of the peace Look out for spurious tickets

The Mentor well says, "If 'cheap money' means high prices for labor, it also means high prices for living so where is the gain for the laboring man"

A vote for C A Husted will be considered by the present commissioners as an endorsement of their policy in county affairs

We again ask fifty-niners not to be deceived by any reports that prominent republicans will not support the republican candidate for state senator. Such reports are false.

Remember that the state committee are expecting from El Paso county a large majority on the republican state ticket because her requests were granted at the state convention.

Dr. Buckingham says, "Thomas M. Patterson called upon me at my office in Denver and offered me a BRIBE if I would withdraw my name from the canvass" He has never denied it Do you want to vote for such a man?

Your work is not completed when you have cast your vote You should see that your neighbor has also voted Business men will find it for their interest to spend the day in securing a larger vote for the republican ticket.

Major McAllister reports that at least twenty five democrats will vote for Dr. Culver in Boulder county He will run far ahead of his ticket in that county This is cheering news and we must look out that Boulder county does not do better than our own

The democratic candidate for lieutenant governor openly ... himself to be a communist The candidate for congress endorsed Voorhees' communistic speech in the U S Senate Remember that a vote for the democratic ticket will assist to put such men in office

We have been informed that the rumor that the A T & S F R R Co has given orders that no employe of the road shall vote the democratic ticket is unfounded This is as it should be No corporation has a right to interfere with the convictions of any employe

Hon Eugene Hale chairman of the republican national committee, says that the result in Maine will not change the plan of the campaign There will be no fusion with the greenbackers in congressional districts where the democrats may be beaten by doing.

Scan carefully every name on your ticket for the democrats have been getting up bogus republican tickets We have just seen one with the names of W M Strickler and Eliphalet Price on it Be sure that you see the names of J C Helm and G H Stewart on the tickets you vote

Notwithstanding the democratic press of the state has done its utmost to find flaws in the character and record of Mr Pitkin, it has utterly failed The character of Mr Pitkin only shines the brighter after the trying ordeal The citizens of Colorado Springs will take delight to day in showing by their votes their regard for Mr Pitkin

The Enterprise-Chronicle (Trinidad) says, "Dr. S N. Culver, republican candidate for state treasurer, was in the city during yesterday, and was well received by his numerous friends, both republicans and democrats Dr Culver is a gentleman of the highest standing socially, and as a competent business man, and is deservedly popular as a candidate, not only in Colorado Springs, where he resides, and all through El Paso county, but he is also extensively known and universally commended throughout the state. His election is well assured He deserves and will undoubtedly get a good vote in Trinidad and Las Animas county"

Major McAllister returned from the north yesterday, after doing the most effective campaign work among the greenbackers. The Tribune of yesterday speaking of his work said, "no speaker has appeared upon the stump during the present canvass who has done more for the republican cause and won more and more deserved laurels than Major McAllister of Colorado Springs. He has not appeared in Denver, but those who have heard him at outside points pronounce him a giant. His eloquence is of the "taking" kind, and his financial argument never fails to win He and Hon. C. W. Wright, candidate for attorney general, closed the canvass together at Longmont Saturday night, and the report comes that they effected great good in that section They had a large meeting and both made addresses which were received with the greatest favor At Boulder, the night preceding, in the face of the reports of the News to the contrary, they had an audience that filled the hall in which they spoke

THE DECAY OF GREENBACKISM IN THE NORTH

There has been in certain localities in the northern portion of the state a strong greenback feeling, which for a time seriously menaced the republican ticket. This lunacy was particularly prevalent in Boulder county, its headquarters being in Longmont and vicinity. Weld county was also affected to some extent, and in certain mining camps in Gilpin and Clear Creek counties quite a number of greenbackers were to be found.

The leaders of the greenback movement, Wolff, Wright, Chittenden, Linderman and others had been particularly active in those localities, and by circulating, through the medium of speeches, circulars, and greenback papers, the most unmitigated falsehoods, had succeeded in forming a party of no mean strength Farmers, ranchmen and others have been told that the democrats have succeeded in getting hold of nearly all the greenbacks in the country and were preparing to offer them at the United States treasury department on the day that resumption should take place, that the gold on hand for resumption purposes will be inadequate to the demand, that suspension and bankruptcy will follow, and that greenbacks will become almost worthless Other equally atrocious falsehoods have been circulated, and not without effect.

Recently however republican speakers well posted in all matters relating to finance have been sent into the counties above named and hundreds of greenback republicans are returning to the fold. In a number of instances greenback clubs have been disbanded, and some of their most active leaders are now hard at work for the republican cause Well informed persons are confident that if the election were postponed two weeks, there would be few if any votes cast for the greenback ticket As the strength of the fiat money party has been almost altogether in the republican counties, it is fortunate that the change indicated has been brought about.

In the democratic counties of the south there is no greenback element every democrat will vote his ticket straight It should be clear therefore to every republican that a vote cast for the fiat money ticket is really a vote in the interest of democracy

San Juan Solid.

Reports from the several precincts and counties in San Juan are most favorable If republicans will go solid for their candidates we are sure of carrying every county The ... of Love...

...and the News upon Pitkin has made him friends whom Gould's money cannot influence, votes which his greenbacks cannot buy Railroad monopoly is too heavy a load for Loveland to carry successfully.

The conspiracy against Belford has won him votes not less than 500 in the northern counties of the state The stolen seat is an incubus which is weighing Patterson down The republicans are earnest and enthusiastic, their ranks are solid and they are marching on to victory.

The great independent element that which belongs to no party, which recognizes no dictation, the free thinking men of San Juan, will vote the republican ticket nearly straight. Independent men are lovers of justice and fair dealing believing that Belford was swindled out of his seat in the 45th congress they will vote for him for the 46th. Independent voters of San Juan will vote for their own and local and home interests. They will vote for Pitkin because he is a San Juaner because he is an honest man, because he is not a politician, because they believe he can and will help San Juan which he is the more likely to do because he is the more likely to do because he has invested thousands of dollars in mining in San Juan They will vote against Loveland because he has slandered and abused his opponent because he is the candidate of Jay Gould and railroad monopoly because he is a candidate for United States senator, and the safety of the nation demands that Colorado shall elect a republican Silver World

Some Microscopical Questions for Butler to Answer

General Butler says he has lived under the blaze of a microscope all his life This is but a plagiarism on himself in 1873, when he said "For more than twelve years, every act of my public and private life has been subjected to a microscopic examination, under a blaze of light supplied by the malignancy of my foes

Since General Butler is disposed to be so frank, he might be inclined to answer the following questions

Is it not true that it was Abraham Lincoln's intention, had he lived a few weeks longer, to have had Genoral Benjamin F Butler arrested and court martialed, for treasonable intercourse with the Confederates during the time when General Butler was in command of the Virginia Peninsula?

Will General Butler also turn the blaze of his microscope upon the subject of the burning of the dispatch boat Greyhound on the James river and prove his all absorbing love for the colored race there, when he rudely pushed aside, and attempted to precede in embarking the colored stewardess and Admiral Porter, who lowered the only boat? Did he throw the colored stewardess aside because he was a friend of the down-trodden poor, and was a chivalric gentleman?

And will he explain his magnanimous act in refusing to relieve subsequently a friend from a floating plank, on the ground that the boilers of the burning boat might explode, notwithstanding the engineer before leaving his post had opened the escape valve?

Will he explain the circumstances of his purchase of the yacht America from the navy department, and tell whether the pig lead ballast in her hold was not worth more than the auction price paid for the vessel?

How much did Frank Moulton pay General Butler for his efforts in relieving him of paying the penalty of a half million of dollars by a compromise of $50,000 only? And how are poor men to be relieved from taxes when their champion is constantly engaged in preventing the government from collecting its dues?

Has General Butler ever violated the law by taking fees in cases against the United States when he has been a member of congress?

Was not the sole object of the suits in the prize case, known as the Florida case, to take money from the treasury, and did not General Butler take a large fee in that case when he was member of congress? Does the fact that it was a contingent fee make any difference in morals?

Will general Butler tell us what ever became of certain four ships which were taken from New Orleans by his brother, or some one on his account, and sent north? Will general Butler tell what ever became of these ships, and under what name they now appear, as the government has never been able to find out? The ships were reported to have been sent north with cargoes What ever became of the ships and of the cargoes? It is said to be a fact that in all the district attorney offices, and the proper government offices, where records of such cases should be kept, there is nothing to show what has become of them Boston Journal

The new M. E. Sunday school library has arrived.

There was a snow storm on the Peak on Sunday, and another yesterday.

The R. M. T. Co.'s harness, wagon-maker's and blacksmith shop is up, and will be ready for business soon.

A very interesting concert exercise on "doing good" was held at the Congregational church Sunday evening.

With No. 29 of the campaign Daily Mountaineer, that paper suspended, yesterday. It has been a spicy, lively sheet.

We call special attention to the advertisement of the promenade concert to be given by Madame Rita at the new court house on Wednesday evening.

On Sunday evening Rev. J. A. Stayt preached a sermon on the duties of Christian voters, in which he told some wholesome truths.

See that your ticket has the names of J. C. Helm for state senator, Ivory (not James) Phillips for member of house of representatives, and G. H. Stewart for justice of peace.

Charles Stearns, the Huerfano street merchant tailor, is on hand with a fine new stock of gents' piece goods, the advertisement of which will appear to-morrow.

Dr. B. P. Anderson will go east the latter part of this week, and his patients will be attended by B. St George Tucker, M. D., during his absence. While east he will read a paper before the Virginia medical society on the climate of Colorado.

H. V. McNeal and wife arrived in the city at noon yesterday, after an absence of three or four months in Iowa. They were just seventeen days coming from the Missouri river across the plains to this city — their third trip in private conveyance across the great American desert.

Real estate agents tell us that there is not an unoccupied house in town at the present time. The demand for residences is very pressing. Would it not be well for those having the means, to erect tenement houses, in order that none may be driven away from town because they cannot find shelter? Another argument, and perhaps the most potent one, is that investments of this kind would pay.

The St. Louis Smelting and Refining Co.'s report of receipts and shipments for last week are as follows:

Yesterday afternoon Amos Lee was brought before Judge Price on complaint of G. W. Stone, for the alleged theft of a pair of mules from Stewart & Stone, of Larimer county. Lee was arrested at Pueblo, whither Sheriff Becker went after him, returning on the 4:10 p. m. express. After hearing the plea, motion was made by the defense for a continuance, which was granted in consequence of absence of important witnesses in Weld county. The case went over until Wednesday afternoon next, at one o'clock, and Lee was remanded to jail.

The Death of Young Lorraine.

Brief mention was made in these columns last Sunday morning of the fact that a man while hunting rabbits accidentally shot himself. Particulars of the sad occasion are now at hand, and we present the same to our readers this morning. Walter S. Lorraine, the son of a prominent physician in Chicago, came to this city about a month ago with the intention of engaging in the sheep business. Proceeding to Mr. C. Merriam's ranch, near Bijou Basin, he took his first lesson in sheep raising. Last Saturday, in company with a companion, he went rabbit hunting, carrying with him his revolver. In a short time the weapon was accidentally discharged while in his own pocket, it is reported, the ball entering the left side and coming out of the back. He lingered in great pain until early Sunday morning, when he passed away. The remains were brought to town, placed in a casket and shipped yesterday to his relatives in Chicago.

Personal.

H. A. McIntire arrived in the city on Sunday.

D. J. Martin, the dry goods merchant, arrived from the east yesterday.

Bruner & Teague is the name of a new wagon-making and blacksmithing firm. Their shop is on the west end of Huerfano street.

Christopher Choate and J. K. Sweeney ascended the Peak yesterday. The former will accompany his brother down today.

Elder J. H. Merritt, not forgetful of his political duties, returned yesterday to his home in this city, to exercise the right of suffrage.

George C. Smyth, publisher of The Chronicle at Cambridge, Ill., is stopping at the Springs hotel. He is looking for a location in Colorado.

Mr. George A. Hines, who has had charge of the St. Louis Smelting and Refining company's warehouse in this city, will go to Leadville soon, to attend to the company's interests there.

Chas. H. Fenn, the genial manager of Col. Councilman's ranch, which is located some twenty-five miles southeast of here, is in this city. Charlie still holds his residence here, and will probably continue to. It is difficult for any one to leave the place who is as thoroughly in love with it as is Mr. Fenn.

J. W. Adams, of the Mosler Safe and Lock Co., is registered at the Crawford. Mr. Adams has the agency for this state for these celebrated safes, also for the Yale & Sargent Time Locks. We can most positively recommend the "Mosler" as one of the best safes manufactured. Each safe from the cheapest to the most expensive burglar proof, is provided with Sargent's improved combination lock, and is finished in the most complete and artistic manner. Mr. Adams can be addressed at 390 Larimer street, Denver.

The General's Latest.

At half-past seven last evening the cornet band assembled in front of city hall, and played a couple of lively airs. By this time a large crowd had assembled and was impatient to get into the hall. Gen. Harris had offered to pay for the use of the hall after his election, but Mr. Sherman concluded that the proposition was entirely too one-sided and declined the offer. But Frank Atherton and some others of the general's friends, skirmished around and raised the necessary amount of nickels to pay the rent. The doors being thrown open the crowd surged in until the hall was packed. After the band had played a couple of pieces, Gen. Harris entered the hall amid a storm of applause. The general had taken a bath, had been shaved and shampooed, was elegantly dressed cap-a-pie, and presented a most inviting appearance. After an eloquent introduction by Wm. Harrison, esq., the distinguished orator of the evening opened his mouth and addressed the audience, verbatim, et literatim, as follows:

"Ladies and gentlemans: Whenever the audience is in order I will proceed to address you upon the vital issues of this great day. [Louder.] "You can't get it any louder from me!" I have got the items down, and the first thing on the docket is to tell you that I aint in favor of any railroad monopoly. I don't belong to no ring. [Hear! louder! How much.] A great many of the audience have spoke to me on what platform I belong to. [Louder.] Gentlemen I have been on the sick report for the last six weeks and I can't holler like some hound over there. [Louder.] Gentlemen, I am a candidate for the next legislature, and I think you will send me there when you hear my items. [Repeated cries for order; shouts, groans, cries and louder.] There is so much noise I can't speak. Whenever you get ready [Items!] if you I will yust satisfy you what I belong to. First and foremost I propose to regulate the railroad passenger tariff, and instead of ten cents have it five cents per mile to Denver, Monument, Pueblo and all other seaport towns. The last legislature in Denver City didn't talk on dat policy. I shall do the best of my constituents. I spoke to one of de gentlemans last winter. I say to him, you been there five months and what you done? Nothing for the people! Ten cents a mile is just like stealing in the open light. (Potatoes thrown upon the stage, loud cries and yells.) Gentlemen, if you belong to the railroad ring I'll go home. I don't like men what vote potatoes. ("Order! order!") There is a election to-morrow for Mr. Pitkin, Belford and some minor points. Some gentlemen speak for them; I am here to speak to the best of my knowledge of myself. I don't need (cabbage thrown on the stage), shall I proceed or quit? (More bouquets). I don't uphold any such documents whatever (yells and light put out). I belong to the N. Y. O. B. Quit throwing that potatoes at me. My best friends are greenbackers and I back them no foolishness. I mean every work what I say. ("Hear! Bet you don't!") When our last presideat was in session there was great fogefey. (I don't mean here but in Washington in the interior, war, and state houses. When Gen. Grant was president the expenses were increasd. How much did Robinson take out of the treasury? Don't throw any more potatoes at me, keep them for your families. If you please keep quiet and give me your attention or I shall forget something what I have thinked on. My party is dead; I am all alone. But Judge Davis of Illinois, (potatoes thrown on stage.) I have potatoes myself at home. I can take jokes but not potatoes. (A potato struck him in the neck, and cries of "louder.") You abuse me, I should have worn a three dollar suit here to-night. (An apple core hit him on the breast.) If this suit of clothes was not paid for the tailor would be mad at you. I was born in Springfield, Mass., by my Italian parents, and raised by the good Green Mountain folks of Maine. (A cabbage and shouts and three cheers for the He-Ro.) I didn't come to address rowdies if I am from Massachusetts. (Louder.) I was going to get some papers to-morrow morning to send to Ben Butler, but what will the general and the people in the east say when I tell them how you treat me? I had orderly audiences in Fountain, Monument and Southwater. Go on! throw your potatoes, and when you get out go down to Odle & Sherman's and get some more. I hold four aces, and you can't bluff me.

* * * * *

The confusion here was so great our shorthand man could get no more of the general's speech. Some of his near auditors kept the general going a short time longer, but he finally succumbed in disgust, and the fun satiated crowd dispersed.

While there were many ridiculous features about the meeting, we think the boys carried the matter too far in throwing cabbage-heads, &c., at the general. There might have been just as much fun with less roughness.

Equal Right.

The following account of the meeting of the equal rights club, of this city, is taken from a letter from Miss Hindman in the Denver Mirror:

The men and women of Colorado Springs have shown an earnestness in the cause of equal rights which is truly commendable.

Tuesday evening a reunion of the friends was held in Prowsconian hall, which was one of the most pleasant and enjoyable meetings it has been our good fortune to attend for some time. Business lost all its hard coldness by uniting it with social and literary entertainment.

The ladies sent invitations to a large number of the friends, inviting them to attend a social entertainment, at which there were to be readings, music and refreshments, also the organizing of all those favorable to the cause of equal rights into a county league.

The hall was well filled. The mayor, Mr. Matt France, presided. A large number became members of the League. Ten persons volunteered to canvass the city for the purpose of securing the co-operation of all favorable to the enfranchisement of women, and at the same time to obtain signatures to the petitions to be presented to the Legislature to ask that the question be again submitted to the votes of the electors.

Miss Tupper gave a select reading which was one of the most pleasant features of the evening, unless we except the refreshments served by the ladies.

A subscription to the state fund for carrying on the work was started, headed by a lady signing twenty-five dollars, another signing ten dollars and some others smaller amounts.

Miss Ellen J. Merritt was chosen to take charge of the finances, to devise ways of raising funds, making collections and transmitting the same to the state treasurer, in Denver.

The work begun in earnest in El Paso county, and will not stop until victory is won.

With such noble, self-sacrificing women as Mrs. M. F. Shields, Mrs. France, Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Welman, Mrs. Draper and Miss Merritt, and many others, it cannot fail to succeed.

Before three months this county will be so thoroughly organized that every friend will be known, and means for converting others adopted.

Regular meetings will be held and the subject be kept fairly before the people.

Mrs. Shields will obtain subscribers for the Mirror.

We were never better satisfied with a week's work than the one spent with the friends in Colorado Springs.
MATILDA HINDMAN.

Colorado Springs, Sept. 25, 1878.

DIED.
